Principles

The rules behind every colour decision. Elements come from here; the visual is always yours.

01 Elements, not visuals.

This system gives you colours, gradients, glows, fonts and rules. How the visual looks — layout, shapes, imagery, how the type is set — is yours to decide, fresh every time.

02 Three heroes, one signature.

Navy, Scaalus Blue and Mist do most of the work. The logo gradient (blue → indigo → violet) is the signature accent — small, every time.

03 One dark, one light.

Posts alternate: dark, light, dark, light. Moods rotate inside each theme so no mood repeats until all six have run. Content never locks a mood — each mood lists what it is good for, as a suggestion.

04 Blue leads, always.

Grounds, colour masses and buttons are blue. The logo's indigo and violet stay small: the accent bar, a highlight end, the logo itself.

05 Glow, never neon. Light, never washed out.

Dark posts glow from one source. Light posts stay light and get their punch from one saturated blue colour mass.

06 Tinted, never grey. Never purple-led.

Shadows, borders and glows are tinted blue. No neutral grey, no flat pure-white ground, no purple as a ground or main colour.

07 Readable first.

Every text colour is listed with the grounds it passes on, measured at the worst point of each gradient and glow.

Three heroes, one signature

Three hero colours do most of the work: Navy for dark, Scaalus Blue for action, Mist for light. The logo colours are the signature accent. Everything else supports these.

Themes and moods

Two themes, three moods each. Every mood is a complete colour recipe. The cards only show which colour plays which role. They are not layouts; the visual is always designed fresh.

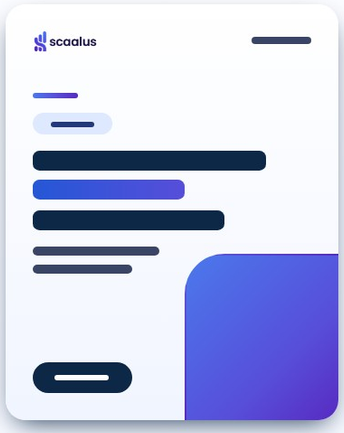

Electric
dark · The call that gets caught.

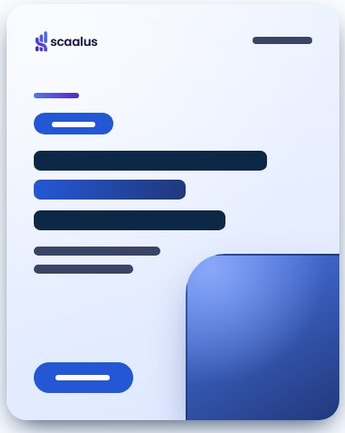

Midnight
dark · Calm, premium, in control.

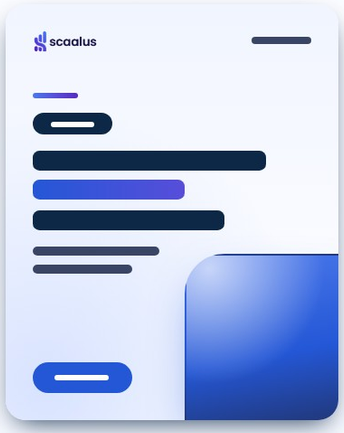

Cobalt
dark · Growth you can see.

Daylight
light · Clear, crisp, useful.

Sky
light · Bright and confident.

Frost
light · Your next step.

01 · OVERALL COLOUR

One dark, one light

Alternate themes on every post: one dark, then one light. Inside each theme, rotate the moods so the same mood never appears twice in a row in its theme.

01	02	03	04	05	06
Electric	Daylight	Midnight	Sky	Cobalt	Frost
dark	light	dark	light	dark	light

Electric dark theme	Missed calls, lost jobs, slow follow-up · Urgent problems · Bold statements	next → Daylight
Daylight light theme	Tips and checklists · Step-by-step lists · Carousel inner slides	next → Midnight
Midnight dark theme	Pricing and offers · Launches and announcements · Quotes and big promises	next → Sky
Sky light theme	How it works · Features and explainers · Friendly everyday posts	next → Cobalt
Cobalt dark theme	Results and big numbers · Reviews and case studies · Growth stories	next → Frost
Frost light theme	Calls to action · Free trial and demo invites · Event or webinar invites	next → Electric

Find the last published post's mood in the sequence and use the next one. If you know nothing about earlier posts, start at the top. You may swap to another mood of the same theme when its 'good-for' fits the content clearly better — never break the dark/light alternation.

Proportions

How much of each colour a post uses. The ground dominates; the accent stays small.

LIGHT THEME

65% Ground

25% Blue colour mass

6% Ink text

4% Highlight + accent

DARK THEME

65% Ground

25% Lit colour mass

6% White text

4% Highlight + accent

- The colour mass covers 15–30% of the frame. Ground: at least 55%.
- Highlight colour on 1–3 words; the accent bar is the only other accent.
- Logo Indigo and Logo Violet together stay under about 5% of the frame.

Contrast at a glance

Worst case across each mood's ground and glow. 4.5:1 for small text, 3:1 for headlines.

Logo colours

Icon + name for single posts and a carousel's last slide. Icon only on every other carousel slide.

Icon + name · single posts · carousel last slide

Icon only · carousel first + middle slides

Icon + name · white · dark moods

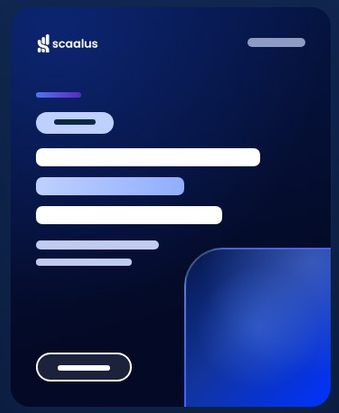

Icon only · white · dark carousels

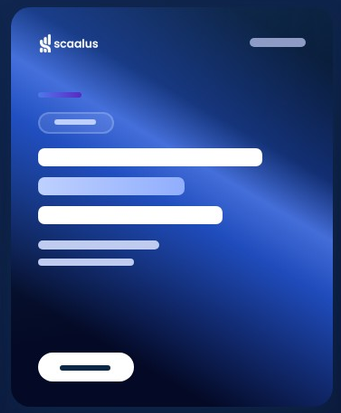

- Single posts, stories, reels, ads and banners: the icon with 'scaalus' on its right.
- Carousels: the icon alone on the first slide and on every slide in between. The icon with 'scaalus' on its right appears only on the last slide.
- Colour logo on light moods, white logo on dark moods. The logo keeps its own colours — never recolour it, never put it on the colour mass or a busy area, never add glow or outline.
- Use only these two lockups. The name-first lockup is retired.

Dark theme

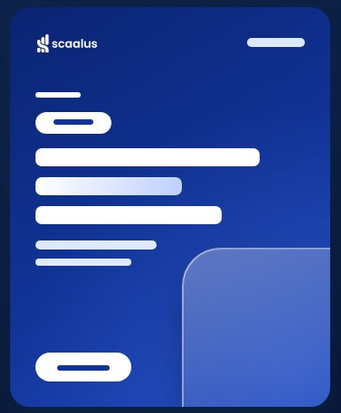

Glowing from within, never neon.

Electric
The call that gets caught.

Midnight
Calm, premium, in control.

Cobalt
Growth you can see.

Electric: The v2 Electric aurora — night blue into vivid electric — glowing out of deep blue. Urgent, but never neon.
Midnight: A rising sweep of blue light across the brand navy — the quietest, most premium mood.
Cobalt: The v2 Cobalt ground — deep royal into cobalt — with frosted white glass. Punch from saturation, not darkness.

Glows and automatic checks

Exact glow recipes, and the checks run on every image made with these colours.

ELECTRIC

- Ground glow: Royal Blue #123499 at 50%, top-left, very soft, about a third of the frame
- Mass glow: Logo Blue #4B78EB at 45%, centre
- Mass glow: Periwinkle #91AEFD at 30%, top-right
- Mass edge: Cloud at 28%, 1.5px

COBALT

- Ground glow: Logo Blue #4B78EB at 30%, bottom-right, very soft, about a third of the frame
- Mass edge: White at 45%, 1px
- Mass shadow: Abyss at 50%, offset 30 px down, blur 60 px

MIDNIGHT

- Ground glow: Navy Royal #21387B at 35%, top-left, very soft, about a third of the frame

AUTOMATIC CHECK · DARK

- Mean luminance of the image at most 0.2
- At least 2% of pixels brighter than luminance 0.5 (the glow)
- Glow and highlight together cover at most 30% of the frame
- Blue leads: at least 60% of coloured pixels are blue
- Violet at most 5% of pixels — accent only
- Orange, yellow or red at most 3%
- Fail any check: regenerate. Never publish a light post that reads half-dark, a dark post with no glow, or a post that reads purple.

python3 scripts/check_image.py <image> --mood <id>

Do and don't

Do

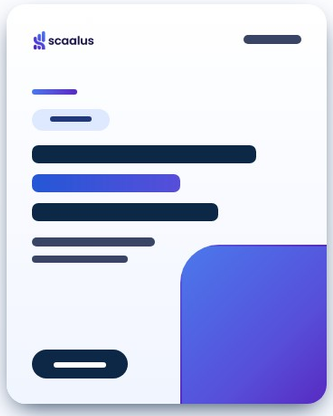

- Alternate with the other theme; rotate moods
- One colour mass, one glow source
- White headlines; Haze supporting (Cloud on Cobalt)
- Highlight 1–3 words with the mood's highlight gradient
- One button per post
- Accent bar on every post

Don't

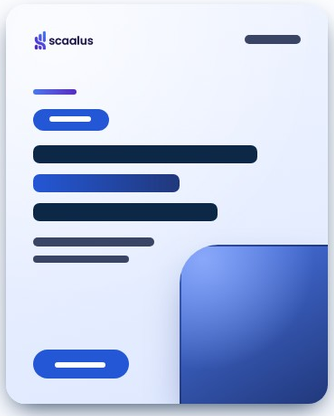

- ✖ Pure black or grey grounds; Electric as a flat full-frame fill
- ✖ Drop shadows on dark — use edges and glow
- ✖ Purple or violet grounds or glows
- ✖ Scaalus Blue, Electric or Logo Indigo as text on dark
- ✖ More than one glowing colour mass
- ✖ Teal, cyan-green, yellow, orange, red

Light and luminous. Punch from one saturated blue, never from a dark block.

Daylight
Clear, crisp, useful.

Sky
Bright and confident.

Frost
Your next step.

Daylight: Crisp white to mist with the logo gradient as the one bold colour.
Sky: Mist to cloud with one glossy logo-blue to navy-royal element.
Frost: Mist with an ice haze and one glossy blue element. Built for the click.

Text on the colour mass: White only, headline size, at the mass's darkest end. Body text never sits on the mass.

Glows and automatic checks

Exact glow recipes, and the checks run on every image made with these colours.

DAYLIGHT

No glow — crisp by design

SKY

Ground glow: White #FFFFFF at 70%, top-left, very soft, about a third of the frame

Mass glow: Periwinkle #91AEFD at 90%, top-left

Mass shadow: Navy Royal at 50%, offset 30 px down, blur 60 px

FROST

Ground glow: Ice #BED0FE at 60%, bottom-left, very soft, about a third of the frame

Mass glow: White #FFFFFF at 70%, top-left

Mass shadow: Scaalus Blue at 50%, offset 30 px down, blur 50 px

AUTOMATIC CHECK · LIGHT

- Mean luminance of the image at least 0.55
- At most 8% of pixels darker than luminance 0.1 (text and logo only)
- Blue leads: at least 60% of coloured pixels are blue
- Violet at most 5% of pixels — accent only
- Orange, yellow or red at most 3%
- Fail any check: regenerate. Never publish a light post that reads half-dark, a dark post with no glow, or a post that reads purple.

Do and don't

Do

- Alternate with the other theme; rotate moods
- One saturated colour mass, 15–30% of the frame
- Navy headlines; Slate Blue supporting text
- Highlight 1–3 words with the mood's highlight gradient
- White cards with tinted borders
- Accent bar on every post

Don't

- ✖ Navy, Deep Royal, Night Blue or Abyss as a fill — light posts stay light
- ✖ A flat pure-white frame with no shape; grey shadows
- ✖ Ice, Periwinkle or Logo Blue as small text on light
- ✖ Body text on the colour mass
- ✖ Violet as the main colour (the logo gradient only ends in it)
- ✖ Teal, cyan-green, yellow, orange, red

Any pairing, any mood

Rotate pairings like moods — don't use the same pairing on two posts in a row. Any pairing works with any colour mood.

Pick one pairing per visual. Max two font families, plus an optional accent serif for 1–3 words.

Type rules

01 Pick one pairing per visual. Max two font families, plus an optional accent serif for 1–3 words.
More families look messy, not creative.

02 Rotate pairings like moods — don't use the same pairing on two posts in a row. Any pairing works with any colour mood.
Variety keeps the feed creative while the colours keep it recognisable.

03 Supporting text, captions and lists always use the pairing's body (workhorse) font.
Display, condensed, wide and serif accent fonts lose readability at small sizes.

04 Display fonts only at headline size. Condensed only in uppercase headlines of 2–6 words. Syncopate only for short uppercase labels.
These fonts are built for size and impact, not reading.

05 Accent serifs (Instrument Serif, Fraunces, Playfair Display) colour 1–3 words — ideally the same words that get the highlight colour.
One premium contrast moment per post, not a second voice.

06 Tighten big headlines slightly (about -1% to -3% letter-spacing); track only uppercase labels wide.
Tight headlines read premium; wide lowercase looks amateur.

07 Never use script, handwritten, distressed, novelty or decorative fonts for words.
They break the minimal, professional, premium tone.

08 Never retype the Scaalus name in any font — always use the logo files.
The wordmark is part of the logo and is never redrawn.

09 Use only fonts on this list, loaded from their official source (Google Fonts or Fontshare).
All are free for commercial use; other fonts may need paid licences.

A calendar full of booked jobs. Always on brand.
